Chana Kaminker in Grade 3 wrote and illustrated a book about
"What Goes On In Your Mouth".

MEETING AN AUTHOR

Our fourth, fifth and sixth graders were privileged to hear from the renowned author, Ruth Benjamin. The girls sat spellbound as she discussed the writing process. She also told the girls all about how she got started, and what inspired her. Mrs. Benjamin encouraged the girls to keep writing and never give up. She says so many writers never publish because they give up. So many of our girls shared how much they have been writing. It was truly inspiring.

UPK FLOWERS

UPK FLOWER PROCESS

As part of our "Our wonderful world" unit, the Upk classes created our very own bouquets. We used every day recyclable items found in our beautiful world, created by Hashem, to paint our masterpieces. We made toilet paper roll roses, water bottle dandelions, seltzer bottle daisies and fork tulips.

INTERVIEWS

In פרשת וירא we learn how much אברהם like having guests. Hashem helped him by sending three מלאכים so he can fulfill the מצוה of הכנסת אורחים.

Sara Light Grade 4-B

How often do you have guest in your house? Every week.

Do you have a guest room or does somebody need to move out of their room? We have a guest room but my brother sleeps there so he has to move out when guests come.

Do you enjoy having guest? Yeah

Do you help your mother prepare for the guest? Yes, I set the table.

Tell us something funny or not so funny that happened with one of your guest? My brother threw a rock by mistake at one of our guest and our guest got hurt!

Moussia Serebryanski – Grade 3-B

How often do you have guest in your house? Almost every week

Do you have a guest room or does somebody have to move out of their room? The boys sleep in the guest room usually, so they move out when guest come.

Do you enjoy having guest? Yes.

Do you help your mother prepare the house for guest? Yes, I help cook.

Do you have any funny or not so funny story that happened with your guest? No.

Bracha Litzman Grade 6

How often do you have guest in your house? We actually have a family living in our house right now, but even when they go away for Shabbos my mother invites other guests.

Do you have a guest room or does somebody have to move out of their room? In the basement we have a room and then we have another empty room upstairs. I also share a room with our guests.

Do you enjoy having guest? Sometimes, but I know it's a big mitzvah

Tzivvia Lerman - Grade 2-A

How often do you have guest in your house? We have guest about once a month.

Do you have a guest room or does somebody need to move out of their room? I move out of my room and sleep in my sisters room when we have guest.

Do you enjoy having guest? Yes!

Do you help your mother prepare for the guest? Sometimes I help set the table or make the knaidlach.

Do you have any funny or not so funny story that happened with your guest? No

NEWS

This week's פרשה so readily came to life in Pre-1A and UPK as one class invited the other to be their guests. We learned what it takes to be a good host, and also what it means to be a good guest! We also had tents set up in the classrooms to resemble Avraham's tent, and the Pre-1a Boys creatively used the climbing dome to create a tent with 4 doors.

Middos Mentch skill of the week: Recognizing Feelings

This week we learned about recognizing feelings. We learned that everyone has feelings, and that all feelings are fine to have. We also learned that people can have different feelings, even about the same situations. We learned to use a balloon or a faucet to help us calm down. Please ask your child about this so that you can practice with him/her at home as well. We discussed many different types of feelings and one UPK Maidele even shared with us that she felt anxious (a big word for a little girl) when her mommy came late to pick her up. We learned that sometimes our feelings are so strong and scary, but once we calm down our feelings can become less strong. We are adding conscious discipline materials to our cozy corners so that we can become experts at understanding our feelings and calming down.

Have a good Shabbos—Morah Chaya

מזל טוב

to Morah Aidy, our Pre 1A assistant teacher, who got married this week and her students were so happy to attend her חתונה. May she and her בית נאמן בישראל and have a beautiful and happy life together.
